

E.J. Van Liere Research Day

Thursday	March 3, 2016 Fukushima Auditorium, HSC
8-11:00	Introduction- Laura F. Gibson, PhD, Senior Associate Vice President for Research and Graduate Education; Associate Dean for Research, School of Medicine Historic overview of Dr. E.J. Van Liere: William Neal, MD, Professor Emeritus and the first winner of the E.J. Van Liere Convocation award Clinical and Translational Science Oral Presentations Moderator: David Siderovski, PhD, E.J. Van Liere Professor and Chair, Physiology &amp; Pharmacology
1:00	Introduction- Sally Hodder, MD, Associate Vice President for Clinical and Translational Science &amp; Director, West Virginia Clinical Translational Science Institute Clinical and Translational Science Research Highlights Bryan Gall, PhD student, David Siderovski's Lab Danielle Davidov, PhD, CTSI Research Scholar Judith Feinberg, MD, CTSI Clinician Scientist
2:00	Introduction- Laura F. Gibson, PhD Basic Science Oral Presentations Moderator: David Siderovski, PhD, E.J. Van Liere Professor and Chair, Physiology &amp; Pharmacology
4:00	Reception-Learning Center Commons, Pylons area
Friday	March 4, 2016
8:15	Check in for Poster Session-in front of Fukushima Auditorium Poster set-up in the Learning Center Commons, Breakfast and Coffee provided
8:45-11:45	Poster Session
2:00	Plenary Lecture-Okey Patteson Auditorium Welcome-Clay Marsh, M.D., Vice President &amp; Executive Dean for Health Sciences Introduction- Jim Simpkins, PhD, Professor, Center Director for Basic and Translational Stroke “Brain Microvasculature in Health and Disease: Translation from Patients to Cell Culture and Back” Gregory J. del Zoppo, M.D. Professor of Medicine, Division of Hematology; Neurology University of Washington School of Medicine, Seattle, WA
3:00	Awards Ceremony immediately following Plenary Lecture Opening- Clay Marsh, M.D.

