Pi Kappa Alpha donates to WVU Eye Institute

MORGANTOWN, W.Va. – Zach Shackelford, president of West Virginia University’s Pi Kappa Alpha Fraternity, recently visited the Eye Institute to present a $400 donation to Chair Judie F. Charlton, M.D., for the Institute’s Visual Fund.

“We are very grateful for the generous support of Pi Kappa Alpha of our Annual Vision Fund. This is a wonderful example of how WVU’s students can take an active role in improving the vision health of West Virginia’s citizens,” Dr. Charlton said.

The WVU Eye Institute is the state’s premier vision center for patient care, outreach, research and education committed to restoring vision and preventing blindness for all in West Virginia and surrounding states.
